1. Commitment

PES University aims to give every student a safe, inclusive and respectful campus. Ragging in any form is prohibited on campus, in hostels, in associated facilities and online.

2. Rules it follows

The policy follows the anti-ragging guidelines of the University Grants Commission (UGC) and, for medical programmes, the National Medical Commission (NMC).

3. Who enforces it

An anti-ragging committee headed by the Vice-Chancellor oversees enforcement.

4. Consequences

- Ragging is treated as serious misconduct and leads to disciplinary action.
- Students found involved can be expelled and handed over to the police.

5. Reporting

- Students can report incidents without fear of retaliation.
- At admission, students and parents sign anti-ragging undertakings (listed among required documents for some programmes).
